And the King will answer them, 'Truly, I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these my brothers, you did it to me.'

"Then he will say to those on his left, 'Depart from me, you cursed, into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels. For I was hungry and you gave me no food, I was thirsty and you gave me no drink, I was a stranger and you did not welcome me, naked and you did not clothe me, sick and in prison and you did not visit me.' Then they also will answer, saying, 'Lord, when did we see you hungry or thirsty or a stranger or naked or sick or in prison, and did not minister to you?' Then he will answer them, saying, 'Truly, I say to you, as you did not do it to one of the least of these, you did not do it to me.'

Journey Notes

Is the Bible credible? By this, I mean, can we trust the sixty six books of the Bible as truly coming from God? Is it reliably and truthfully God's very words? In other words, when we read the books of the Bible, are we truly reading Scripture or man's opinions?

The Bible is the self-revelation of God, God's disclosure of himself, his works and his purposes in human affairs. Having shown us Himself in nature, in history, in conscience, in His Son, and through the Holy Spirit, God has also exalted his Word (Ps. 138:2). For example, Jesus expressed confidence in the Word. Scripture guided Him in his temptation (Matt. 4), in His suffering death, and exaltation to the right hands of the Father (Phil. 2:10-11). "Heaven and earth will pass away, but my Word will not pass away." Jesus said (Matt. 24:35). God's Word is the final and ultimate standard, the measure by which man will be rewarded for service and judged for His sin (Ps. 1:1-5, 19:11, Rom. 2:5).

For these reasons, we must ask again, is the Bible truly the Word of God? In answering this question, I posit three reasons why the Bible can be relied upon:

- (1) Jesus attested to the Bible's credibility (Matt. 4)
- (2) The Bible credibility is Grounded in God's own nature and character (1 Peter 3:15, (1 Jn. 1:5, Num. 23:17, Ps. 92:15).
- (3) Fulfilled prophecy, archeological findings, historical confirmations of persons, places and things and the resurrection of Jesus, are proofs of its reliability (1 Cor. 15:14-19)

Beside all this evidence, we must not ignore the most critical purpose of God's Word- to teach us, reprove us, correct us, train us, and equip us for life.

The Bible is not an idle book, but a living book. It is our GPS for life. Are we reading and applying its lessons to our lives?
